Obituaries

CLARENCE R. BELL SR.

Clarence R. Bell Sr., 58, an employee of the Public Works Section of the Naval Construction Battalion Center, Gulfport, for about 18 years, died Tuesday, Jan. 13, 1981 at his residence, 207 Easy St., Bay St. Louis.

A native and life-long resident of Bay St. Louis, he was a veteran of the Army in World War II, with the rank of staff sergeant. He was a member of the Valena C. Jones United Methodist Church, Bay St. Louis.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Rosemary Lewis Bell, Bay St. Louis; five sons, Walter James Martin, Lynwood, Calif., Erick F. Bell, Clarence R. Bell Jr., Charles Johnson, and Kent Leon Bell, all of Bay St. Louis; four daughters, Mrs. Dale B. Kelly, New Orleans, Mrs. Ernest Potee, Bay St. Louis, Miss Kim E. Bell and Miss Rochelle A. Bell, both of Lynwood, Calif.; four brothers, Melvin J. Bell and Winfield Bell, both of Bay St. Louis, Milton L. Bell and Shelton C. Bell, both of Chicago; and 18 grandchildren.

Visitation was Saturday from 9 a.m. until service time at 11 a.m. in the Valena C. Jones United Methodist Church.

Burial followed in Cedar Rest Cemetery, Bay St. Louis. J.T. Hall Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements.

ARTHUR J. BIDDISON

Arthur Jefferson Biddison, resident of Wood Street in Waveland for some seven years and a New Orleans, La. real estate broker, died at 5:30 p.m. Friday, Jan. 16, 1981.

Biddison, who had received extensive press coverage in connection with a heart transplant, died at the Stanford University Medical Center, Palo Alto, Calif. where he had been hospitalized since November.

He was a native of Tulsa, Okla. Funeral arrangements are incomplete.

LAMAR CORMIER

Lamar Cormier, 77, resident of New Orleans and Sportsman Lake near Lakeshore, died Saturday, Jan. 17, 1981 in New Orleans.

Survivors include his wife; three brothers, Milton Cormier of Waveland, Glenn Cormier of New Orleans, and Sidney Cormier of Baton Rouge; and one sister, Mrs. Helen Blanchard, New Orleans.

Funeral arrangements are incomplete.

ISABEL YARBOROUGH

Visitation for Mrs. Isabel Necaise Yarbrough, 56, is to be after 6 p.m. Sunday at Edmond Fahey Funeral Home in Bay St. Louis where rosary will be recited at 8 p.m.

A 10 a.m. Mass will be celebrated Monday at St. Clare Catholic Church in Waveland, followed by burial in Waveland Cemetery.

Mrs. Yarbrough, wife of Waveland Alderman Hermin Yarbrough, died Friday, January 16, 1981 at Gulfport Memorial Hospital.

She was a resident of 128 Dogwood Drive, Waveland; native of Kiln; and member of Waveland American Legion Post No. 77, Auxiliary and St. Clare's Parish.

She was the daughter of the late Willie and Edna Curet Necaise.

In addition to her husband, survivors include four daughters, Mrs. Elaine Favre of Richardson, Tex., Mrs. Emily Piazza and Misses Judy and Patricia Yarbrough, all of Waveland; two sisters, Mrs. Alicia Favre of Kiln and Mrs. Bobbie Puckett of Bay St. Louis; and six grandchildren.

National Register lists 700 Bay St. Louis sites

By WAYNE DUCOMB JR.

Some 700 buildings and structures in Bay St. Louis have been listed in the National Register of Historic Places.

National listing will offer limited protection, eligibility for grant funds and tax advantages to property owners within what has been named the Beach Boulevard Historic District and six relatively small districts within a "Multiple Resource Area" of Bay St. Louis.

The beach district includes properties along almost the entire length of Beach Boulevard in Bay St. Louis and reaches inland a varying number of blocks.

Property owners eligible for these benefits recently received notification letters from the State Department of Archives and History.

Director Robert J. Bailey of the archive's Division of Historic Preservation, noted in Jackson Friday, "Residential, commercial and every other type of structure is included in the resource area."

"Gaining national historic status for Bay St. Louis was of primary interest to me because that town, out of any other Gulf Coast community, is the quintessence of the early 20th Century coastal village—and that's why we pushed this thing through," he reported.

Bailey said the closest Gulf Coast community matching the historical character of Bay St. Louis is Apalachicola, Fla.

"People who received letters in Bay St. Louis were those with individual property of primary significance," Bailey noted.

"Listing in the national register offers to a property owner a certain degree of limited protection from projects by the federal government which could result in alteration or demolition of a historic site," the preservation director stated.

Bailey explained limited protection is insured to property owners by a "three-way" agreement between the archives department, the President's Advisory Council on Historic Preservation and any federal agency involved in a project—such as highway construction.

Property owners are eligible for matching 50-50 federal grants if they wish to apply for restoration funding. Bailey said the federal grant money "is virtually non-existent" due to budget cuts by the Carter administration.

However, he urges local property owners to contact his office for the proper forms and a "grant guide" to apply for funds in the event monies become available.

"Some state may not use all of the funds allotted by the federal government. But if we get some money we have to be ready to move fast, and the applications we have on hand will eventually be funded," Bailey reported.

The director noted the deadline for next year's grants is June 1.

Bailey added that grants to upgrade entire districts were not available, but individual applicants were more likely to be funded.

Regarding tax advantages accompanying the national registration, Bailey cited as an example, "An individual who owns a building which houses an income-producing business and wishes to rehabilitate that structure to U.S. Department of Interior standards, could write off the cost on income taxes over a five-year period."

Bailey noted there are also tax "disincentives" written into federal laws, but he said his office has gone on record opposing those impositions.

"If a listed building is destroyed by a property owner he or she can't deduct the cost of demolishing that building from income taxes," the director stated.

"We have gone on record opposing the disincentives because they have been counterproductive," he said.

A new preservation law signed by President Jimmy Carter on Dec. 12 attempted to get the disincentives out of the law, but instead a compromise was made. Now we have to get written owner consent for each nomination," Bailey explained.

"Securing those 700 signatures in Bay St. Louis alone is a logistical nightmare," Bailey added.

Regarding classification of local buildings, the director said in a multiple resource area such as Bay St. Louis there are four levels of architectural status.

Bailey lists and defines these levels as buildings with:

—Primary significance which have historical architectural value. A building in this category could possibly be a historical landmark;

—Contributing factors which are not as architecturally or historically significant, but contribute to the ambience of a community;

—Marginal value which may be an old building, but it has some detracting features;

—Intrusive qualities where an old structure's appearance is completely changed or a new building which does not conform with neighboring architecture.

Bailey said the state archives department receives 50 percent funding from Mississippi and 50 percent from the federal government.

But the director added, "Right now we're fighting for the very existence of our program."

The board moved to look into the matter to discern what the state requires.

In other business, the board: —Approved a request by Jeannette Handshoe, Special Education teacher at Gulfview, to attend a BMT Workshop in Jackson, Jan. 20;

—Endorsed House Bill 28, a bill requiring two purchasing orders for equipment costing less than $1,500 and more than 500, be adopted in order to purchase two air conditioner-heater units needed in the Hancock North Central High School trailers. The old bill would have required advertising.

—Approved Sandra Ladner as part-time worker in the cafeteria at Hancock North Central; —Approved Janie Necaise be employed as substitute teacher for the 1980-81 school year.

—Authorized the board and superintendent to attend the Annual Impact Aid Meeting in Washington, D.C. March 3-4.

—Approved a request by Oscar D. Kennedy to cancel a 16th Section land lease; —Approved that same lease to August Usher at $126 per year.

He said the interview form would be filled out by himself and passed to the principal of the school where hiring was intended.

"A permanent record will be kept on file of the interview sheet," Pair said.

He added the sheet will also be used for future reference in terms of promotion.

Pair also informed the board of a new state law requiring a teacher be informed prior to any discussions the board may hold concerning that teacher.

The teacher has the right to bring an attorney," Pair said.

"The meetings must also be public," he added.

He also informed the board of an increase by 1983 in the score requirements needed for teachers to pass the National Teachers Exam.

The exams must be passed before any teacher can be accepted to teach.

Hill discussed the project AIM program and said Mississippi schools are "right on schedule" and "further ahead than a lot of other schools on the coast."

He said the program is constantly changing and that the school system is going at a slow pace because of this reason.

Board member Woodrow Ladner asked if the project should be approved by the board at intervals before the final 1984 date set for completion.

The program must be completed by 1984 in order for schools to be accredited at that time.

FARMWEEK

"Farmweek" market reporter John Winfield will introduce viewers to the futures market on "Farmweek" at 7:30 p.m., Monday, Jan. 26, on the Mississippi Educational Television Network.

The program will be rebroadcast the following morning at 7:30.

Winfield says the futures market is frequently misunderstood by farmers. With the help of experts from the Mississippi Cooperative Extension Service, he will explain the basic principles of the futures market and show how these principles might fit into marketing plans of Mississippi farmers.

"Farmweek" also provides weekly farm news, weather and market prices. The program is a co-production of the Mississippi Center for Educational Television and the Mississippi Cooperative Extension Service.

CHANGES IN LIFE

How to deal with painful changes in life is covered in a new series, 'Begin with Goodbye,' at 1:30 p.m., Sundays, beginning Jan. 25, on the Mississippi Educational Television Network.

Dealing with personal losses as seemingly simple as from a neighborhood that has been home for five years to the imminent death of a young mother of three is painful.

Eli Wallach hosts the series of six programs, which probe such issues as job loss, retirement, separation, divorce, sickness and death.

Feminists to meet at Gulf Park

Feminists from across the state will convene January 31 for the Mississippi State NOW Conference at Gulf Park College in Long Beach.

The National Organization for Women is the nation's foremost feminist organization with 115,000 members dedicated to eliminating sex discrimination.

The state conference plans call for a 'stimulating and motivating forum for determining the direction or feminists in our state during the eighties,' according to Susan Durr of Gulfport, conference coordinator.

Registration will open at 7 p.m. Friday, January 31. Saturday and Sunday, workshops and business meetings will be held.

Dr. Georgia Fuller, chair, National Committee on Women and Religion, will present sessions on "Women and Religion" and "Religion and the Right Wing."

Ms. Dixie Lee Johnson, Washington State coordinator and chair of the National C-R Committee, will present a workshop on "Feminist Consciousness-Raising."

Ms. Garnett Harrison, an attorney for legal services in Hattiesburg, will talk on

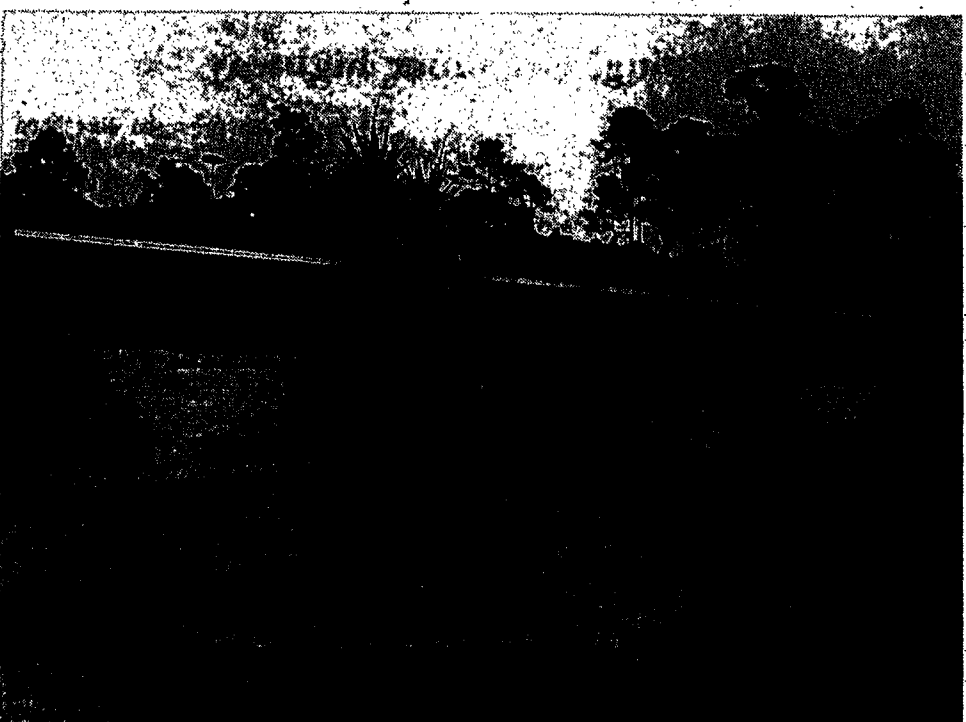

"Child Custody Laws in Mississippi."

The national board member for the mid-south region, Ms. Anne Gannon, will keynote the conference with a talk on "The Future of NOW."

A registration fee of $10 for members and $13 for non-members will be required.

Women from out of town may rent rooms at the Gulf Park College for $9 per person.

The conference will close at noon on Sunday. All interested women are urged to attend and actively participate in our State NOW Conference.

Congressman Trent Lott was greeted by a standing-room-only crowd at his town meeting Wednesday night at Hancock County Courthouse.

Lott, Mississippi's Fifth District representative in Washington, who is the new House Whip chosen by the Republican Party, addressed the greeters and then was open to questions.

We feel this is a very good way for elected officials to become aware of the feelings of their constituents and want to extend our thanks to Lott in taking his time to meet with Hancockians.

The replies by the congressman and his staff to persons with social security and other problems were well received.

We need more political leaders like Congressman Lott in Washington.

Geraldine Lang, spokesman for the Concerned Citizens, called us Friday and asked that we make a final appeal on the Dunklin project.

Ms. Lang, through the cooperation of many people, spearheaded the building of a new home for Mr. and Mrs. Willie Dunklin on State Street in Bay St. Louis.

The new home is almost complete with just a few finishing touches being applied, according to Mrs. Lang, but she still has $800 in bills for building materials and cement.

We realize many have already donated materials, labor, monies for materials, plans and helped organize the operation.

Of course the key person in the construction of the new home for the Dunklins is Ms. Lang who took it upon herself to help these two elderly people in need of a home to reside.

The place they were living in was completely deteriorated and had to be destroyed.

We hope some of you will be able to help Ms. Lang in wrapping up the final outstanding bills.

This has been a community effort, sort of like the old barn building style of our forefathers.

Ms. Lang can be reached at 467-9586.

The topic of 'political terrorism' is very much covered by the media today. The reason being of course the fact that terrorism is going on all over the world.

A person living in our community, George C. Beckett, a resident-agent for the New Orleans area with the U.S. Department of State, Office of Security, will be discussing 'political terrorism' at a public forum tonight.

We have heard Mr. Beckett address the Bay Rotary Club, and he is a very interesting speaker.

Mr. Beckett will be at the Main Street United Methodist Church, at 7 p.m. tonight in the Fellowship Hall.

Admission is free and the public is invited.

LEGAL BRIEFS

The Grand Jury System Needs To Be Reformed

By Harry M. Philo
President
Association of Trial Lawyers of America

The grand jury, particularly on the Federal level, has become an increasingly powerful tool for the prosecutor in fighting white-collar crime, organized crime, and public corruption.

But some people feel this unprecedented growth in power for the prosecutor has resulted in increased concern about the fairness of the secret grand jury proceedings.

While there have been calls within the legal profession for the abolishment of the grand jury system, which is present in 32 states, this is not the best solution to the problem. Sometimes the grand jury can be a very effective investigatory body as evidenced by its important role during the Watergate scandal.

The best solution to this imbalance of power in the grand jury is reform. And the best reform is to allow legal counsel in the grand jury room only as an advisor to the witness before the grand jury.

At the present time, the grand jury is the last critical stage of a criminal proceeding at which the presence of counsel is not guaranteed. It only seems fair that a lawyer be present to aid the witness as even the most sophisticated witness is likely to be intimidated by the grand jury setting.

When legal counsel is not present, a witness may unknowingly waive his or her privilege against self-incrimination, or may be badgered by the prosecutor.

While the witness is now allowed to leave the grand jury room to consult legal counsel outside, this process is awkward and ineffective and may well be prejudicial.

However, the Justice Department remains steadfastly opposed to allowing lawyers in the grand jury room. It argues that lawyers will not limit themselves to an advisory role and that a lawyer's presence would breach the secrecy of the grand jury.

Experience in more than a dozen states now allowing lawyers in the grand jury room shows that this argument is false as lawyers only advise the witness and do not address the grand jurors.

As to the argument about violating the grand jury secrecy, this argument is misleading as the Federal Rules of Criminal Procedure already allow witnesses to tell their attorneys what happens in the grand jury room.

Regardless of the arguments pro and con within the legal profession, there is a definite need to restore through reform the delicate balance to grand jury proceedings that will ultimately protect the innocent and punish the guilty.

Dear Sir:

It was most gratifying to note Hodding Carter III, former spokesman for the State Dept., admit that the Carter foreign policy was inconsistent and inept, and that Zbigniew Brzezinski had a "second rate mind," matters about which I have written to you over the past several years.

Appropos the Inaugural celebrations and halls, it must have been a terrific shock to the moral majority to observe the appointment of old Frankie (Blue Eyes) Sinatra to be the chairman of the Reagan Inaugural Committee Balls and other hoopla.

Needless to add about his (Frankie's) alleged connections with the Mafia and Vegas and various and sundry syndicates involved in Casinos, etc.

Sir:

It was very dark and very cold in Shoreline Park at 8:45 p.m. Christmas night, Wednesday, December 25th. My wife and I were looking forward to spending a relaxing seven-day vacation at our camp there, which we frequent at every opportunity.

As we drove into the driveway of our camp, the outside yard light was off and the door was wide open. We entered not knowing if someone was inside or not. The inside was a terrible mess. The thief or thieves had pulled the electric meter and supplied themselves with a television set, some cash, small appliances, food and other personal belongings. In their search for whatever they were looking for, they dumped everything from the shelves and closets onto the floor, a most fearful and disappointing site.

At approximately 8:58 p.m., we called the Hancock County Sheriff's Office and, within minutes, Officer Glen Jackson was there. His very presence was most reassuring. He diligently completed his investigation, taking several items for fingerprinting and called the Coast Electric Power Association for us. Again, within what seemed like just minutes, Mr. Marvin Ladner of the power company was there to replace the meter and restore the electricity.

The purpose of this letter is to publicly thank the Hancock County Sheriff's Department, and the Coast Electric Power Association for the prompt service and kind words of comfort to two people who were really in need of their service.

After living in twenty-three cities throughout all areas of these United States, we have found that the Bay St. Louis and Waveland area has the most friendly and down-to-earth people of any place we have lived. We will become permanent residents within a short period of time and, while this theft incident was somewhat tragic, it did prove to us that we can be comfortable and reassured in knowing that protection and service is gratefully given when it is really needed.

Letter to the Editor
Bay St. Louis

Dear Editor:

This letter is regarding the article about the Hancock County School Board meeting which was written by Brent Macey on January 4, 1981.

Included in this article was a comment about a written complaint against HNC principal, Mr. Donald Hillman, from Beta members who were presumably refused use of the gym for a talent show.

The Beta Club requested permission from the school administration to sponsor a talent show and permission was granted.

No other request was made. The Club planned to stage the show at Annunciation School Gym in Kiln for three reasons.

First, the stage had necessary lighting. Second, dressing room facilities were available. Third and most important, was the fact that the gym was in a central location.

Most of the participants lived in the Kiln or surrounding areas. HNC School Gym was never considered nor requested for our talent show.

In any organization complaints from its members do arise; however, at no time prior to the talent show did any initiated member or sponsor voice disagreement concerning the decision to have this activity in Annunciation School Gym.

Therefore, it is assumed that the person who made this complaint is not affiliated with the Beta Club, and the complaint was thoroughly unauthorized and unfounded.

HNC phone billsJan. 13, 1981
Sea Coast Echo

Dear Editor:

Every time I attend a Hancock County School Board Meeting I become incensed.

The last time I attended a school board meeting I was very angry about the way our tax money is being spent unnecessarily on long distance telephone calls that obviously our principal, superintendent or school board can do nothing about.

At a previous meeting in May, Monvel Cuevas questioned a large bill made from Hancock North Central (HNC).

At that time Mr. Cuevas refused to authorize the payment of the bill but other board members overruled him.

He had the principal investigate the calls and it was verified that a personal call was placed from a coach's home and charged to the school.

At a July 18 meeting it was revealed that 38 long distance calls had been placed from the gym phone totaling $108.

Mr. Hillman, principal, said he would see that this wouldn't happen again. He would change the phone system.

At an October 25 meeting, three school board members - Johnny Banks, Monvel Cuevas, and Woodrow Ladner - approved the payment of the claim docket deleting No. 696 which was a $285.44 phone bill for the gym, field house and band hall.

At a meeting Nov. 22, Mr. Cuevas asked why the phone bill had been paid against the school board's approval. When I questioned who authorized the payment, Mr. Sills informed me he had.

November 30, I read in the Sea Coast Echo that the board approved payment of the phone bill that had already been paid as previously authorized by the Superintendent of Education.

When questioned about the legality of this, Mr. Jody Gex, school board attorney, informed me that bills come up that have to be paid before the school board meets.

However, these men knew that this bill had to be paid before they voted not to pay it.

In view of this incident, evidently the Gulfview controversy hasn't made our Hancock County School Officials aware of the detriment of disregarding legal procedures before taking action.

The Official Board
Bay St. Louis, Miss.

As a citizen and taxpayer on the Mississippi Gulf Coast, I am greatly concerned about the proposed Regional Wastewater Commission, and as a certified Wastewater Operator, holding Certificate No. 100, in the State of Mississippi, I feel that I am more qualified than most to comment on this Bureaucracy, and its ultimate cost to the taxpayer.

Fraud is defined as "Deceit or trickery deliberately practiced in order to gain some advantage or end unfairly, dishonestly, or to the prejudice of another's right or interest."

It is in the context "to the prejudice of another's right or interest" that I believe there is a conspiracy to perpetrate gross fraud against the citizens of the three Coast counties, and against the Federal Government. This will be in an amount possibly exceeding $100,000,000 - hardly a sum to be dismissed lightly as not worthy of note.

Here are some hard facts in the matter:

1) The existing plants can "provide reliable, consistent, and generally acceptable effluent quality." "This can be done without unnecessarily endangering the health and safety of operators, neighbors, or the public." The above quotations are from a letter written by Mr. James L. Hawley and Mr. Donald J. Benson, both engineers with the firm of CH2M Hill, the project engineers for the Commission. See copy of letter attached.

2) The law as written requires that the most cost effective method be used in any sewage or water projects. The most cost effective method on the Mississippi Gulf Coast is for each city to "go it alone."

3) Despite many public statements to the contrary, Federal Funds are available to do the job, with each city installing, upgrading, extending or otherwise doing whatever is necessary to meet the requirements for not only 1983 - but even for 1985.

4) The regional system as proposed will not meet the 1985 requirements. Study of the documents supposedly in all the public libraries will bear this statement out. The parameters of the plants proposed are the same for both 1983 and 1985. The United States Supreme Court recently ruled in the case of industry that EPA requirements regarding pollution must be met regardless of economic cost, even to the extent of closing down entire industries if they could not meet the standards within economic bounds. See, copy of newspaper article attached. Presumably cities and other public agencies will be required to meet those standards regardless of cost to customers and taxpayers.

5) Once a contract is signed by a public agency with the Commission, then that agency is obligated to make payments under the contract, and I quote:

"Irrespective of whether or not use or services are rendered or whether or not the treatment facilities contemplated by such contracts are completed, operable or operating, and notwithstanding suspension, interruption, interference, reduction or curtailment of the use or services of such treatment facilities."

This quotation taken from H. B. 975, Line 435 to Line 440. The system may never be built, or if started may never be completed, but the taxpayer keeps on paying, and paying, and paying.

6) Members of the Commission are answerable to no one, since they are appointed - and I quote a member of the Jackson County Board of Supervisors - "for political considerations only and none other."

7) The Commission has broad powers. Section 27, line 1182 and 1183 are quoted in their entirety:

"This act shall be interpreted liberally to effect the purposes set forth herein."

I believe that H. B. 975 would be declared unconstitutional if challenged in the courts, as the citizen is denied "due process." Bond issues may not be voted on unless preventive action is taken by the citizenry in a very short time.

It may very well be that the engineering firm involved would not be interested in assisting individual cities to obtain Federal funds. There are other engineering firms - and at some expense of time and money I have contacted one such firm.

This firm has considerable expertise in all phases of public works, water systems, wastewater systems, parks, etc., and has at least one office in the State.

They have trained staff who are familiar with procedures for obtaining federal funds, and the two gentlemen to whom I have talked expressed their willingness to come to the Coast at their expense, with no obligation of any sort involved, to see if they might assist in this difficult matter.

The firm is that of Gregory-Grace and Associates of Memphis, Tenn. Both Mr. DeWayne Hawkins and Mr. Wealey Grace of the firm impressed me most favorably.

A brochure containing lists of some of their clients and further information about some projects they have designed and overseen is attached hereto. I respectfully urge you, in the strongest of terms, to take advantage of their offer.

Your for government of the people, for the people, and by the people - not bureaucrats.

Dear Sir:

In the past two days, I have been told that I should not oppose the paving of the Fire Tower Road.

I am not never have been against paving this road during the several years since it has been proposed.

My complaint has been entered in the inconsistencies of engineering planning as they have been revealed to me by the surveying parties, the assistant engineer, and other evidence.

We have been promised this hard surfacing for more than six years, and perhaps if a more reasonable approach to the problem had been made, we would have been out of the mud long ago.

I simply requested the Supervisors to review the planning and expenditures attendant hereto. The assistant engineer stated that there was no cost estimate so far prepared. Is that the way to conduct our business?

Give us a road like the Joe Moran Road and not a super highway.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Linda Lacoste is victim of rumor-mill

Editor
Sea Coast Echo
Bay St. Louis

Dear Sir:

I would like to tell the people of this community that I, Linda Lacoste of Kiln, wasn't the "Lacoste" or one of the people involved in a shoplifting incident in K Mart, Waveland in the month of December.

It seems as though I've been accused by people in the county.

But that is why I'm writing this letter to the editor. If anyone has any doubt or questions, please call me at my home 255-9880 and I'll be glad to talk to you to clear up any questions you have.

Hancock Veterans service officer, Congressman Lott discuss benefits

Congressman Trent Lott
Room 2400 - Rayburn Building
Washington, D.C. 20515

Dear Trent,

I would like to wish you and your family a very happy and prosperous New Year. Also, congratulations on your super election victory.

I sincerely feel the American people are happy with the new administration. The overwhelming victory of Mr. Reagan attested to the fact that the majority of the people wanted a change.

Recently, the Commander-in-Chief of the VFW, Mr. Arthur J. Felock, visited our Post Home in Kiln, Mississippi. He informed us of the resignation of Mr. Max Clelland, Director of the V.A. I want you to know this was the most pleasing information we have had in a long time. Mr. Max Clelland did not represent the veteran.

As Mr. Reagan stated in his address to the 1st VFW National Convention, "There is a breach of faith that compensation for those with service-connected disabilities has not kept abreast of inflation and the administration rammed through Congress a pension program admittedly designed to deny such to World War II and subsequent veterans and their survivors."

Also, Public Law 96-588, effective June 1, 1980, which established pension rates for non-service connected veteran and his survivors is absolutely ridiculous.

For example, an unmarried widow is entitled to only $2,989 per year (VA pension benefits).

We know it is impossible for a person to live on $2,989 per year.

I sincerely hope that Congress will take a long, hard look at the benefits for non-service connected veterans and survivors.

These veterans served their country honorably and faithfully, and were fortunate enough to return home safely without a service-connected disability.

However, when they do become disabled, we know it costs as much for them to live as it does the service-connected veteran.

Again, thanks for your loyal support to the veteran and his dependents.

Enclosed is my check in the amount of $14.95 for the American flag which I spoke to Mrs. Hays about this date.

Said flag is supposed to have flown over the Nation's Capitol on Inauguration Day. Upon receipt, it will be presented to the Hancock County elected officials to be flown at the Hancock County Court House.

Respectfully yours,
Mike Ladner,
Veteran's Service Officer
Hancock County

Bay St. Louis, MS

Dear Mike:

Thank you for your letter of recent date and your money order in the sum of $14.95 to cover the cost of one 5 by 8 nylon American flag.

A flag has been requested in your behalf and shall be forwarded to you as soon as it has been flown over the capitol.

I appreciate your comments regarding Governor Reagan's promise to improve veterans' benefits. I agree that the present system of compensation should be reevaluated in order to insure that the needs of the veterans and their survivors will be taken care of. It is reassuring to know that this matter will be a priority of the new administration.

I am grateful that you have taken the time to share your views with me and I am taking the liberty of contacting Mr. Reagan's transition team regarding this matter of mutual concern. Please feel free to write me whenever you find that I may be helpful to you. With best wishes for the new year, I am

Sincerely yours,
Trent Lott

NO STRAWBERRIES AND CREAM IN SOVIET BLOC

By EDWIN FEULNER

A socialist is standing on a soapbox, according to the old story, telling the crowd, "Comes the revolution, we'll all eat strawberries and cream." A listener complains, "But I don't like strawberries and cream." "Comes the revolution, comrade," the socialist replies, "you'll have to eat strawberries and cream."

The point of the story is, I suppose, that "the revolution" does not always live up to its promise. Sixty years ago Communism appealed to millions because it purported to be a new, morally superior, and liberating philosophy holding out the promise of a Communist cornucopia that would surpass all capitalist approximations but have none of the latter's repugnant features.

What grew to gargantuan proportions under the Communist regimes of Eastern Europe, however, was not industrial production or general affluence, but bureaucracy. The system degenerated into a corrupt, inhuman, and morally and ideologically bankrupt regime of fear, whose sole purpose was to keep a privileged Soviet elite in power.

Capitalism in Eastern Europe refused to lie down and die, but "socialism with a human face" in Czechoslovakia could not sustain itself against half a million Soviet troops in August 1968.

The ideological rationalization for the intervention in the liberal-Communist regime of Alexander Dubcek was the ex facto "Brezhnev Doctrine," which was more or less the old proletarian internationalism of Lenin.

It held that socialist countries had a right to intervene in other socialist countries if socialism itself were threatened. The same concept was used to justify the invasion of Afghanistan in 1979, and will probably be invoked if the Soviets march through Poland.

The current workers' unrest in Poland signals that Moscow's hegemony in Eastern Europe might more easily be eroded by strikes than by the revolutions encouraged by the West. The Polish David has already extracted from the Comintern Goliath a recognition of the basic right to form independent trade unions and continues to demonstrate that it is heartily sick of paying tribute to Moscow.

In What Is To Be Done?, Lenin stated that the widest publicity should be given to strikes and demonstrations. He must have meant to add, though, "only when they happen in capitalist societies."

For communist countries, despite their Marxist jargon, simply cannot abide the "masses" dropping their chains in a "people's democracy."

Early socialists understood that the dream could not be realized overnight—strawberries and cream would have to wait a while. But they did not expect the reality to be so deformed as to resemble in many ways the evil it was supposedly challenging.

How can the Soviet Union explain its suppression of religious freedom, free speech, free press, and free trade unions—sixty-three years after its revolution?

Is it possible that after all this time, the Russian people have not yet been won over to socialism and must be repressed, lest they topple the present regime?

Apparently the people of Hungary in 1956 and Czechoslovakia in 1968 were likewise unable to see for themselves the benefits of Communism and had to be held in line by military force and policy repression.

The current unrest in Poland poses a question that begs to be answered: Why should workers choose socialism when socialist countries deny the right to strike?

"We have the advanced technology to make this equipment work as it's designed to do, but experience shows we can never foresee all the bugs in initial designs, so we're required to continue this exhaustive testing program," Yardley observed.

He noted Columbia's launch in March will be "strictly a test flight with no payload aboard."

He added, however, the craft will contain some 12,000 pounds of test equipment "to measure itself."

"The Columbia flight in March also will be the first time we have sent men on the first flight of a new vehicle," Yardley added.

"The Columbia is really a low-risk vehicle in my opinion; the March flight will be a safe mission," Yardley believes.

Gerald L. Wilson, resident manager and main propulsion test director for Rockwell International, said the huge vapor clouds generated during testing are primarily the result of evaporation of cooling water on engine flame defectors.

"A by-product of burning liquid hydrogen and liquid oxygen is obviously water," Wilson explained, citing a second source of the off-pictured clouds.

Bush had stated earlier that among Saturday's main objectives would be simulation of a return to launch site abort case.

During an actual shuttle mission, in the event one of the three main engines cuts off in less than 261 seconds after launch, the astronauts will return the orbiter to the launch site.

Yardley noted the astronauts are in ejection seats and in the event of extreme emergency could escape the vehicle up to 40,000 during initial stages of the flight.

If an engine cuts off after 261 seconds, the required procedure will be an abort to orbit, Bush pointed out.

Saturday's plan called for all three engines to run at 100 percent of rated power for 261 seconds. At that point, engine No. 3 was cut off, and the remaining two engines continued to run at 100 percent for the duration of the test.

Gimbaling and pogo pulsing was alternated during the firing, Yardley said.

Gimbaling is a procedure which allows the engines to move and change the course of the orbiter during flight, Bush explained.

Pogo pulsing is the intentional insertion of gases into the liquid propellants which causes vibrations, testing the propulsion system's ability to withstand vibration during flight, Bush explained.

Those vibrations can be felt from miles away from the test site.

Prepare for Winter, Rainy Weather

WINTER and rainy weather can cause locks, sliding doors and windows to become sticky or rusty. But WD-40 can solve these and other common indoor and outdoor problems. A spray of this water displacing product lubricates and frees sticky mechanisms to keep all moving parts working smoothly. It also penetrates rust and corrosion and provides a protective moisture-resistant seal. There is no gummy residue to attract dirt or dust. Find WD-40 in 2 oz., 9 oz. and 12 oz. spray can sizes, at hardware, grocery and other retail stores.

And, Donald Henry Ray Jr., 33, of Bay St. Louis, machine operator; Margaret A. Richardson Schmitt, 22, of Bay St. Louis, field worker for the county tax assessor's office; Gerald S. Richards, 31, of Rt. 2 Box 528 Bay St. Louis, construction worker; Willie Mae Jarrell, 57, of Picayune, wire layer; and Colea E. House, 48, of Perkinson rural route, homemaker.

Also last week, Jack L. Hosey, 19, of Gulfport pleaded guilty in Hancock County Circuit Court to charges of armed robbery and arson.

Judge Leslie B. Grant, who is presiding in the January term of Circuit Court here, sentenced the youth to six years in the state penitentiary with no parole on the armed robbery charge and four years for the arson charge. The sentences are to run consecutively.

Hosey had been arrested Nov. 3, 1979 by Hancock County Sheriff's Department Investigator Delbert Seay in connection with arson of Gerald Fayard's home in Bay Side Park.

Seay said the youth jumped a $10,000 bond set after that charge.

Hosey was arrested Sept. 12, by Gulfport police in connection with an $80 armed robbery of Majik Mart on Railroad Avenue and Kelly Street there.

In another case, Terry Joe Rainey pleaded guilty to charges of grand larceny.

An initial sentence of three years in the state penitentiary was reduced to a two year suspended sentence, a $250 fine and a $300 restitution fee to the larceny victim.

Pecan Market News

PECAN MEETING

There will be an Area Pecan Production Meeting for producers in Hancock, Harrison and Jackson Counties. The meeting will be held at the Harrison County Courthouse in Gulfport, Tuesday night, January 20, 1981 at 7 p.m.

Dr. Richard Mullenax, Extension Horticulturist from Mississippi State University, will be on the program. He will discuss most of the problems pertaining to pecan production in the coastal area including varieties, diseases, fertilization, etc.

All home owners interested in pecan production are invited to attend this meeting. If you have any questions pertaining to pecan production, this meeting will be a place to get the answer.

GROW YOUR OWN

For many farm families, growing strawberries is more than just a way to satisfy that sweet tooth or the magic green thumb urge. It's a good way to earn some extra income in a "pick-your-own" enterprise.

To grow strawberries successfully, you must follow a sound production program. Plants must be selected carefully, diseases controlled and other practices followed in insure health, productive plants. You'll have to be on your toes, because something as basic as selecting the wrong variety may mean no crop at all.

The county Extension office has information on growing strawberries, from variety selection to harvesting. If you're interested, stop by the county Extension office for a free copy.

SOIL TEST NOW

Soil test your garden site now to be ready for planting. If you wait too long to take a soil sample, you may be applying lime this spring when you could be planting. By planning ahead, you can keep your garden productive almost year-round. We have the materials you need to take a soil sample.

DELTA AG EXPR

Mark your calendar January 27-28 for the seventh annual Delta Agricultural Exposition to be held at the Bolivar County Expo Center in Cleveland.

The upcoming Expo will be the biggest and most informative ever. There'll be crop conferences each day on cotton, soybeans and rice, and experts will be on hand to answer questions. Sessions on catfish production, pecans and marketing have been added this year.

There'll also be about 100 agricultural exhibits on display at the Expo. Everyone is invited.

FARMWEEK

On January 19-20, Farmweek will feature the second of a series of five reports on marketing farm products. Reporter John Winfield will take an in-depth look at forward pricing, the futures market, and how farmers can use these marketing alternatives to reduce risks. That's Monday, January 19, at 7:30 p.m. and the following Tuesday morning at 7:30 on Mississippi Educational Television, Channel 19.

VETS AGING
Some three million armed forces veterans are 65 years of age or older, according to Veterans Administration statistics. By 1985, this number is expected to be five million and by 1990 it will be over 7 million.

VAH NETWORK
Since its inception fifty years ago, the Veterans Administration hospital network has grown from 64 hospitals to 172 medical centers.

AVERAGE AGE
The average age of all Vietnam Era veterans is 34.

GUNS RECOVERED—State Highway Patrolman Earl J. (Mike) Cox, left, and Larry Ladner, Bay policeman, check over guns recovered by Cox in Kila Friday. The three guns were allegedly taken from OTASCO in Picayune and a bulletin with the description of the person and vehicle was relayed to the Hancock sheriff's office. Cox arrested Ronald Brown, P.O. Box 102, Kila, as he drove into a shopping area in Kila. The highway patrolman was assisted by Patrolman Tony Greer and Deputy James Ladner. Brown was taken to the Hancock jail and booked with grand larceny and held for Pearl River deputies. (Staff photo by Ellis Cuevas)

Commission expressed concern of a division of opinion between local municipalities regarding the regional plan.

We're cited the Coastal Zone Management Act and the regional waste water plan as local federal programs offered as schemes with government funds which diminish local control.

The commission director asked if 'someone in Washington D.C.' could improve the program.

Lott replied, "President-Elect Ronald Reagan won't be in office soon enough to help. Your waste water problem comes to a head in two weeks."

Lott speculated, "Perhaps you can save money with this program, but I'd like to see some figures on the costs involved first."

Lott again jabbed EPA by noting that two officials from that agency stopped expansion of a Chevron petroleum plant near Pascagoula.

The congressman also noted difficulties encountered from EPA in efforts to deepen and straighten the Port of Gulfport's access channel.

Lott reported James Watt, Reagan's designate for heading the Department of Natural Resources, might also head the Department of Energy. "He's going to be a good man," Lott added.

NTSL
The congressman reported the Reagan administration will have a 'positive' effect in further development of the National Space Technology Laboratories' Army Ammunition Plant, Naval Oceanographic and Atmospheric Administration, and U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service.

However, Lott speculated that no additional funding for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration will be forthcoming.

"I understand that a fireproof foam and several beneficial things have come from the space program, but I think funding for NASA will stay about where it is now," he explained.

Regarding the fish and wildlife service, Lott said the government agency has not been adequately assisting U.S. fishermen.

The congressman stated the wildlife service head, "is more interested in the leather-back sea turtle than anything else."

In other topics discussed, Lott:

—Called for a reduction in the estate gift tax;

—Cited a need for improving all U.S. military forces;

—Said Medicare funds should be accumulated in a fund separate from Social Security monies;

—Called for total administration of the nation's schools by state and local governments;

—Predicted interest rates would reach the mid-teens this summer;

—Called for more funds for highways and libraries;

—Criticized mandatory installation of air bags in new automobiles;

—Reported Comprehensive Employment Training Act programs stand a 50-50 chance of being continued by the Reagan administration;

—Said all cases of Medicaid and Food Stamp fraud should be prosecuted;

—Accused the Democratic Party of planning 'booby traps' for the Reagan administration;

—Said a National Health Insurance Program is 'out of the question' because the federal money is 'not there' to support the program;

—Said the National Flood Insurance Program is a 'bureaucratic nightmare';

—Predicted Congress will increase the social security earnings limit;

—Said no existing Veteran's Administration benefits should be terminated by the government, but changes for future military people should be studied;

—Reported Mississippi's Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service head will be replaced shortly after Reagan is in office. He said the Fifth Congressional District has not been represented fairly in the organization;

—Cited a need to restrict the number of legal aliens entering the U.S. until the nation's elderly sick can receive more assistance;

—Said former Attorney General Ramsey Clark should be prosecuted for his actions in Iran.

Hawaiian ceremony unites Milholland, Snow

Waimea Falls Park, Haleiwa, Hawaii was the tropical setting for the January 3 garden wedding uniting Elizabeth Cheney Snow, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward C. Snow of Diamondhead and Phillip Delbert Milholland, son of Mr. and Mrs. Delbert M. Milholland of Moses Lake, Wash.

The bride wore a white gown of organza featuring a V-neck with ruffles and petite satin buttons accenting the bodice, and a satin ribbon forming a bow at the waist. A full circular skirt was tiered with layers of billowy ruffles that completed the overall effect.

In her hair she wore cascades of dendeobium orchids. The groom wore traditional Hawaiian wedding attire with a malle lei. The bride's malle lei was accented with pikake flowers.

The immediate families made up the wedding party. Each had a lei of tube roses with vanda orchids.

The groom opened the ceremony in the Hawaiian tradition by blowing the conch shell to the four winds welcoming relatives and friends to the wedding.

The ceremony was conducted by Judge Peter Lewis of Honolulu. David Berett, long time friend of the groom, sang several selections.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the Honolulu home of Mr. and Mrs. Jack R. Grogan.

After a honeymoon trip on the island of Hawaii, the couple will be at home at 824 A, 10th Avenue, Honolulu.

In addition to the bride's parents, her sisters, Miss Priscilla Snow of Bay St. Louis, Ms. and Mrs. Jack Sawyer and her husband of Philadelphia, Pa. attended the wedding.

The groom's parents and his sister, Mrs. Paul Davies and her husband of Orondo, Wash. attended along with Mr. and Mrs. David Berett of Seattle, Wash.

Mrs. Milholland is a graduate of Bay Senior High School. She received a bachelor of fine arts from Arizona State University, and a bachelor of science in geology from University of New Orleans. She is now working toward a masters of science, at the University of Hawaii.

Mr. Milholland graduated from the University of Washington Phi Beta Kappa with bachelor of science degree in Oceanography and Geology. His master of science degree is from the University of Hawaii and is in Marine Geophysics. He is now working toward his doctorate in marine seismology at the Hawaii Institute of Geophysics, University of Hawaii.

MR. AND MRS. CHARLES LANGENACKER

Waveland Seniors open Carnival Ball season

"That's What I Like About The South" was the theme last night when the Krewe of SCOWJ held its first Mardi Gras ball at the American Legion Hall in Waveland.

The theme presented tribute to the South, with music from the South of yesterday, today and tomorrow.

The royal maids were Mrs. Ada Belson and her duke, Mr. James Belson; Mrs. Eunice Arnold and her duke, Mr. Davis Caillier; Mrs. Patricia Ockman and her duke, Mr. Monroe James; Mrs. Grace Carter and her duke, Mr. James Hubert; Mrs. Thelma Guidry and her duke, Mr.

John Loisel; Mrs. Louise Markey and her duke, Mr. Joseph Roppolo; Mrs. Rita Marti and her duke, Mr. Maurice Shea; Mrs. Georgia Diebold and her duke, Mr. Joseph A. Pettit.

Her royal majesty, the queen was Mrs. Louella Culbreth and his Royal majesty the king,

Mr. Dudley McCall.

Pages to the queen were Julie LaGasse and Mickey LaGasse.

Pages to the king were Bradley Belson and Kelly Belson.

The krewe's membership is drawn principally from Senior Citizens of Waveland, Inc.

Langenacker, Gibson exchange vows

Grace Eleanor Gibson became the bride of Charles Joseph Langenacker in an afternoon ceremony on Sunday, November 30, at First Baptist Church, Bay St. Louis.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Burl E. Gibson Jr. of Bay St. Louis. She is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank R. Blackmar Sr. and Mrs. Hazel B. Gibson, all of Gulfport.

The groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Frank J. Langenacker Sr. of Waveland. He is the grandson of the late Mr. and Mrs. Ferdinand Ramond and the late Frank Langenacker Sr. and the grandnephew of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Sellers.

Officiating at the double ring ceremony was Dr. Nathan L. Barber. Nuptial music was provided by Mrs. John McKenna, organist.

Miss Gwen Crawford and Miss Stephanie Crawford sang "The Wedding Song," accompanied on the guitar by Burl Gibson III, brother of the bride.

The bride and groom read to each other and jointly to their guests from the Book of Corinthians in the New Testament.

The bride chose a formal gown of lace and chiffon over satin. Her flowing overskirt developed into a train with wide lace edging. The cathedral veil had matching lace and was held by a small cap of lace and seed pearls. She carried a white Bible with a bouquet of white silk roses and baby's breath interspersed with ribbons of narrow lace.

Attending the bride as maid of honor was her sister, Rosemary Elizabeth Gibson. She wore a gown of lavender satin velour with baby's breath adorning her hair.

Bridesmaids were Sarah Ann Gibson, sister of the bride, and Mary Langenacker, sister of the groom. Their gowns were of light orchard, satin velour. All three of the bride's attendants carried three long-stemmed white silk roses with ribbon streamers of narrow lace over orchid ribbons.

Attending the groom as best man was his brother, Frank J.

Langenacker Jr. of Bay St. Louis. Groomsman were Lee Cronk of Bay St. Louis and Frank I. Gibson, brother of the bride.

Ushers were Thomas Kruger of Bay St. Louis and Ransom A. Gibson of Gulfport, brother of the bride.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the church's fellowship hall.

The bride's table held a three-tier cake decorated with sugar spun roses and topped with a heart shaped blown-glass ornament with small wedding bells in the center and a pair of delicate glass swans beside a small glass rose at the base. Delicate tints of lavender and orchid edged the ornament. The cake was made by Mrs. Ransom A. Gibson.

The Groom's table held a double-tier chocolate cake made by Mrs. Paul Raynaud Sr., decorated with chocolate icing roses and a bride and groom ornament. Candle arrangements and silk flowers of white, lavender and orchid completed the decor.

Assisting at the reception were Mrs. Burl Gibson III; Mrs. Ransom Gibson; Mrs. Steven Scianna, sister of the groom; Miss Sandra Emrick of New Orleans and Hattiesburg; and Mrs. Paul J. Raynaud Sr. of Bay St. Louis. Following their honeymoon trip, the couple traveled to Minot, North Dakota, where they are presently stationed with the U.S. Air Force.

OLG Carnival Association begins 48th season

Our Lady of the Gulf Carnival Association held its annual Kick-Off Party on Tuesday, January 6 at the church rectory.

In past years there have been two King and Queen candidates. This year there will be no King and Queen candidates. There will be teams chosen to raise money for the church and schools headed by Henry Cook for Team A and Billy D. Sills for Team B with Mrs. Yvonne Chapman as his co-captain. One week prior to the ball, Rev. Francis Farrell as administrator will choose the King and Queen by drawing their names out of a hat from the team who has raised the most money.

The Grand Duke and Duchess will be drawn from the remaining team.

The royalty chosen to represent the association will remain secret until the night of the ball.

Main events for this year's teams will begin on January 14th and close on February 22.

The ball will be held on Friday, February 27.

Anyone interested in assisting with the planned activities is asked to contact one of the team captains. They may be reached at the following numbers: Henry Cook - 467-2903, Billy Sills - 255-2691, Yvonne Chapman - 467-1226 or 7410.

Sallinger named lifetime member of BWGC

President Anita Fowler presented 10 year pins to Joyce Ladner, Jeannette Lind, Eran Cuevas, Annie Maude Cuevas and Etha Mikoville.

Receiving 5 year pins were Mildred Bobinger, E.J. Chalk, Marie Cheney, Letha Cuevas, Marsline Cuevas, Mable Depree, Mary Ferrarini, Lora Haas, Merle Haas and Johnny Hermann.

Also marking 5 years were Verdlee Kilinar, Jeannell Koenen, Cora Bond, Sandra Ladner, Sarah Long, Geneva Moran, Ethel Nicaise and Ellen Peterson.

Echoes

Mrs. Ethel Garcia enjoyed a three week visit with her daughter, Sister Norma Garcia of Lafayette, La. During her stay, she welcomed the arrival of a new great-granddaughter, Jennifer Guilbeau, daughter of and Mrs. Ronnie Guilbeau of Carencro, La.

Waveland Ward supplies Mormon missionaries

David McKay Bosley, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Bosley, 116 Beverly Drive, Bay St. Louis, has been assigned to the Utah Salt Lake City North Mission to begin a two-year missionary call with the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints.

A 1979 graduate of Bay High School, he attended the University of Southern Mississippi for a year prior to receiving his call in November. His first month was spent at the Missionary Training Center in Provo, Utah, where he underwent a series of training and orientation classes. His assignment to Salt Lake City is somewhat of a paradox since it has been more common to find missionaries being sent from that location to other areas where the church is not so widely represented. The young missionary, representing the Waveland Ward, is joining a group of more than 30,000 members presently serving church missions worldwide, for which they receive no financial compensation and pay their own expenses. When Bosley began his mission he became the second missionary serving from the Waveland Ward, joining Randall Sones who this month completed a two-year mission in southwest United States. In December, Randall's younger brother Jon entered the Mission Training Center following his call to serve in the Geneva, Switzerland Mission. This gave the local unit a record number of three missionaries serving at the same time.

Concerned citizens of Hancock County will meet at 1 p.m. today at the home of Maurice Mercader.

"Also, a prayer service and discussion program for Catholics of the diocese and Lutherans of the Gulf Coast will be conducted to commemorate the 450th anniversary of the Augsburg Confession," a group spokesman said.

"The meeting will be Sunday at 7:15 p.m. in Nativity Cathedral in Biloxi. Refreshments and fellowship will follow meeting," the spokesman noted.

"A meeting of the newly founded Arts Council of Bay St. Louis and Waveland will also be Sunday at 7:30 p.m. in the Gulf National Bank meeting room," the spokesman reported.

"Sunday after the 7 a.m. and 9 a.m. Masses at St. Rose de Lima, Sister Mary Coyne, a public health nurse, will be giving free screening tests for sickle cell (age 3-18) and high blood pressure in the St. Rose cafeteria. Parents should accompany children to sign releases for them," the spokesman said.

"Sister Coyne is also available for free care for those needing it after a stay in hospital," the spokesman added.

MASS SCHEDULE

—Saturday Vigil Mass at 6 p.m.
—Sunday at 7 a.m., 9 a.m. and 6 p.m.

Speaker will be George S. Beckett, resident agent for the New Orleans area of the U.S. State Department's security

The program is scheduled to get underway at 7 p.m. at the church's Fellowship Hall in Bay St. Louis.

Repent And Pray

By Hazel Banister Selph

Kilm, Miss.

Another year has come and gone,
The time passes so swiftly on.
A New Year we have to face,
We'll try with good the bad to replace.

Pray for the leaders of our land,
Give them wisdom and love for fellow man.
Lord, keep our Nation both good and strong and keep us, Dear Lord, from doing wrong.

Keep us from selfishness and foolish greed.
For in Thy guidance we can succeed.
Help us as a Nation, to turn from sin
Work hard for good, and right to win.

For the youth of our Nation, Dear Lord, we pray
Keep them in Thy love and care away;
May they learn true love and morality,
Live a life for God—and happy will be.

May we turn back to prayer at Mother's knee,
Establish christian homes and live for Thee.
Repent, oh our Nation, and seek God's face.
He promises to forgive and save us by His Grace.

an Answer!

Parents scare him

Q. I am a male teacher, teaching 4th grade. I have excellent rapport with my students. I am free, lucid and even a bit witty with them. But as the years go by I am having more difficulty relating to their parents. I become hesitant, defensive, uncertain, somewhat paranoid and suffer a poor self-image.

When parent-teacher conferences come I have a terrible energy lag and seem overwhelmed by innumerable problems which are mostly anticipated but do not exist. Often I lose my voice during or right after the conferences. Would hypnotic therapy be wrong?

A. Your letter certainly indicates that you are a sensitive and intelligent man.

We pick up the impression that your attitude toward parents and your intense mental and physical reactions could possibly stem from some "unfinished business" of growing up. An incomplete emotional separation from one or both of your parents could produce an irrational fear of parental authority and a vague sense of guilt, neither of which are appropriate to your present situation.

You might want to explore this through professional counseling, along with the advisability of hypnotic therapy.

Perhaps you will find help in our booklet Overcoming Anxiety and Fear which is on its way to you. Anyone wishing a free copy may write to us at Box 500, Pawling, N.Y. 12564.

Pulpit Points

BY DR. L.S.
WALKER

Did you ever try to assemble a new toy or play-set for Junior or Jane, or maybe a new appliance for the home, thinking all the while that you knew exactly how it was done, so you ignored the enclosed instructions?

Then after working zealously until your patience and wits were exhausted; after trying everything else, you decided to read the instructions to find that it required about ten minutes to do the job which you have worked at for the past two hours?

Then you wondered why you didn't read the simple instructions to begin with?

Well, in a somewhat similar fashion, men are trying to get to heaven - to find peace with God without reading and following the instructions which He has given us in His Word.

The Saviour said, "Search the scriptures; for in them ye think ye have eternal life: and they are they which testify of me. And ye will not come to me, that ye might have life" - John 5:39-40.

The instructions must not only be read; they must be followed. "Be ye doers of the word, and not hearers only, deceiving your own selves" - James 1:22.

World political, social, economic, educational and religious leaders are striving in vain to bring peace and order to a frustrated, sin-cursed world by their own methods and on their own terms. They will never succeed until they read, acknowledge and follow the Divine instructions.

Peace comes only on God's terms. These terms are found in the Holy Scriptures. The world cannot have peace without the Prince of Peace. It is as simple as that!

Even the devil is peaceable on his own terms. It is the peace of slavery and bondage. Those who would presume to tell us how to put it all together should read the instructions. "The counsel of the Lord standeth forever, the thoughts of his heart to all generations. Blessed is the nation whose God is the Lord..." - Psalms 33:11-12.

A world civilization which has walked on the Moon and searched the secrets of Saturn, cannot find peace with itself, with one another, nor with God.

This will be their portion until they read and accept the counsel of His Word.

Ignorance of God is indeed the most deadly ignorance. Those who stubbornly refuse to be instructed are victims of their own folly.

Hancock NAACP marks Dr. King's birthday

'An injustice anywhere is a threat to justice everywhere'

—Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

Gilbert Mason, a friend of Dr. King

By EDGAR PEREZ
If any one characteristic could best portray the late Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., it would be his passion for justice, according to Dr. Gilbert Mason, Biloxi physician.

"That one word 'justice' tells Martin Luther King's story," Dr. Mason told some 300 persons gathered Jan. 10 at Gulfside Assembly in Waveland for the third annual supper theater of the Hancock County Branch of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

"Justice stands out in his writings; it was his ultimate goal for himself and for all down-trodden people," Mason said of the assassinated civil rights pioneer and Nobel Peace Prize winner.

Last weekend's gathering was dedicated to the memory of King on the occasion of his birthday Thursday.

In a recounting of struggles in the 1960's to free Hancock and Harrison County beaches of segregation, Mason recalled King considered Mississippi to be 'in the forefront of creative reaction and non-violent activity.'

Mason, guest speaker at the Waveland event, recalled the confrontations, arrests, court appearances and ultimate successes in which he was involved during struggles to end segregation in public schools and beaches on the Coast. Mason reminded his listeners of a prediction King made in his famous Washington Rally address: "Mississippi, a state sweltering in the heat of oppression, will be transformed into an oasis of freedom and justice for all."

Mason, president of the Biloxi NAACP since 1960, also recounted several instances in which he met the Dr. King during that period.

The commemorative meeting also included a slide presentation on highlights of King's career narrated by young members of local churches.

Clarence Harris, branch president, urged participants to join the local NAACP branch, known as the Hancock County Action League.

Harris said membership dues are $5 per year.

MOTHER-OF-THE-YEAR CANDIDATES—The Hancock County Action League's 1981 Mother-of-the-Year, Mrs. Joan Mitchum, seated, of Bay St. Louis who was sponsored by St. Rose de Lima Catholic Church, is surrounded by the other candidates for the honor in the league's fund-raising competition. They are, from left, Mrs. Shirley Tillman of Bay St. Louis, Valeria F. Jones United Methodist Church; Mrs. Ethel Johnson of Bay St. Louis, First Missionary Baptist Church; Mrs. Odean Morris of Waveland, Macedonia Baptist Church; and Mrs. Ethel Frederick of Kiln, Kiln First Baptist Church. The five candidates raised more than $3,000 for the league, the Hancock County branch of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

College credit offered on TV

A series of programs, 'Contemporary Health Issues,' to be aired on Mississippi Educational Television can be utilized for college credit through the University of Southern Mississippi in Hattiesburg. Department of Independent Study.

"The series will run from Jan. 19, through March 11, covering a wide range of topics related to personal and family health," a university spokesman reported recently.

"Teachers seeking college credit, health officers in industrial settings or those who plan health related careers should benefit from the programs," the spokesman noted.

Dr. Eugene Barnes, professor and chairman of the Department of Health and Safety Education at USM, will teach the course.

"The purpose of this course is to improve personal wellness," Barnes said.

"There are varying degrees of illness, from relatively insignificant illnesses such as colds to more serious or disabling illnesses. The same is true of an individual's health," Barnes explained.

"Through this series we can show a person how to alter his lifestyle and experience better health," he said.

For further information contact Dr. Jim Robertson, Department of Independent Study, Southern Station, Box 5056, Hattiesburg, Miss. 39401 or telephone (601) 266-4267.

EVIL FANTASIES

Dr. Edmund Bickeligh's fantasies take a diabolical turn in the next story on 'Mystery!' at 9 p.m., Tuesdays, beginning Jan. 20 on the Mississippi Educational Television Network.

In Francis Iles' 'Malice Aforethought,' hosted by Vincent Price, Bickeligh is trapped in a loveless marriage and treated with unabashed contempt by his snobbish, overbearing wife.

His only solace is in Walter Mitty-like fantasies of heroic exploits and flirtations with the local girls of Wyvern's Cross. Yet even these conquests soon lose their allure to a man of his secret self-importance - until he meets and falls madly in love with newly arrived Madeleine Cranmore.

'Mystery!' is closed-captioned for the hearing-impaired.

IN LOVING MEMORY OF AUGUST LADNER
Darling, it will be one year January 20, since God peeled a brighter star in Heaven to shine upon us. He chose you, leaving us sad, lonely and broken hearted. God only knows the tears we have shed, getting sadder each day. Gone, but not forgotten.
Sadly missed by Wife, Children, In-Laws, Grandchildren and Great-Grandchildren.
